

Your legacy is their future

The Gift in your Will is life-changing for people in need.

Let's work together to serve humanity so all may live as God intended – free from poverty and disadvantage.

They need your help

Thank you for considering a life-changing Gift in your Will to ADRA Australia. With your help, the next generations in need in Australia and around the world will have hope for a brighter future that is free from poverty and disadvantage - just as God intends.

I've seen the incredible change the generosity of people like you has made in the lives of families like Blais's, who can now feed his children and send them to school. His children can now pursue their dreams.

Your legacy of hope will live on for years to come.

With gratitude and blessings,

Denison Grellmann
ADRA Australia CEO

Why ADRA will stay in our Will

Growing up in Lae, Papua New Guinea, I saw the challenges of a developing nation coming to grips with a new and modern world. When ADRA helps, they do it with real heart and with the motivating grace of Jesus Christ. This adds quality to what ADRA does.

A few years ago, when Pamela and I were reviewing our Will, we added ADRA to the list of beneficiaries. We didn't have to think much about it.

"The Bible mandate for social justice is clear: we are to help widows, orphans and anyone who needs help. ADRA is aligned with our values and we'd love to see it keep delivering grace to those in need."

Glenn and Pamela Townend have been life-long supporters of ADRA.

Why we are leaving a gift to ADRA

As Christians, Wal and I understand that we have an obligation to consider the plight of the poor and disadvantaged and try to do something to help. Through supporting ADRA, we can have a part in achieving this.

When we visited an ADRA project in the Solomon Islands, we saw the difference a water tank and standpipes have made to a community. Before, getting water meant a canoe trip to another island. Now, the community has easy access to clean water.

We trust ADRA to disperse our donations in a trustworthy and efficient manner. That is why we have left a contribution to ADRA in our Wills.

"We have been so blessed and feel a responsibility to share what we have with others."

Anne and Wal Cram trust ADRA to use the Gift in their Wills effectively.

Why Rosemary's gift matters

Rosemary Greene lived a life of service, so when Pastor Robert Stankovic first talked about establishing an ADRA Community Centre in Belmont, she wanted to help.

Rosemary included a thoughtful gift to ADRA in her Will, and with the blessing of her daughters, the money was used for urgent kitchen renovations.

Hundreds of disadvantaged people now receive food parcels, meals and vital fellowship every Tuesday.

A plaque in memory of Rosemary hangs in the kitchen of the ADRA Belmont Centre – a reminder that her kindness and compassion continue to improve the lives of the people receiving help, and the experience of the ADRA volunteers at the Centre every week.

Rosemary's generosity will not be forgotten.

'Rosemary's Kitchen' impacts hundreds of people every week.

How to Leave a Gift in your Will

There are three main types of gifts you can leave to ADRA.

Residuary Bequest:

Percentage of Your Estate:

You can nominate a percentage from 1% to 100% of your estate to ADRA Australia.

Specific Bequest:

You can leave a specific sum of money or an item such as real estate, shares, artwork or valuable belongings.
